INTEREST IN MILITARY TRAINING IS REVIVED AT FT. SAM HOUSTON

(By Associated Press)
Fort Sam Houston, Texas, June 9.—The government's "loan" to its citizens in the shape of free military training at the forthcoming citizen's training camps promises to be several hundred per cent oversubscribed. This fact is seen, according to Colonel Joseph F. Gohn, charge of citizens' military training camp activities in the eighth corps area, in the large number of applications which literally have swamped headquarters here.

The two citizens camps in the eighth corps area—at Camp Travis, Texas, and Fort Logan, Colorado—can accommodate only 1,200 men this year. Of these the Texas cantonment will care for 200, while the Fort Logan school is to train 400 citizens. The $900,000 appropriation granted by congress, it was pointed out, gives only the sum of $100,000 to each of the nine corps areas of the country, permitting roughly of the training of 12,000 men during the summer of 1921. It is estimated that the total cost to the government of training each citizen for the thirty-day period will be $95, which includes clothing, arms, ammunition, food, medical attention and travel to and from their homes at the rate of 5 cents per mile. The latter item, Colonel Gohn said, is the only variable one in the list, it being calculated that approximately $17.50 of the $95 estimate will go for travel alone.

At Camp Travis the citizen rookies will live in the barracks recently occupied by the activities of the Recruit Educational Center, in which the peacetime second division educational program had its inception. At first it was planned to put the citizen soldiers under canvas, but because of the heat this tentative plan was abandoned in favor of wooden barracks. The regular barracks will be used at Fort Logan also, climatic conditions in Colorado making these more comfortable than the regulation army tents. The personnel of the Recruit Educational Center largely is to be commandeered for the citizens' military training period at Camp Travis, but in addition thereto will be added a staff of about twenty officers, just graduated from the army's infantry school at Camp Benning, Georgia. At Fort Logan the instruction is to be given by officers chosen to conduct the R. O. T. C. there from June 16 to July 27, but like the Camp Travis organization, a number of graduates of the Camp Benning infantry school are to be utilized in addition.

Only one course of instruction—the "red" course—is to be provided in this year's citizens training camps, according to Colonel Gohn. This qualifies graduates for enlistment in the organized reserve and is the basic training for an infantry recruit. Next year it is hoped to give both the "white" and "blue" courses, the former of which qualifies graduates for the non-commissioned grades in the reserve and the latter fitting men for commissions in the grade of second lieutenant in the reserve. No obligation is entailed to the citizen, Colonel Gohn said. They are not even required to become a part of the reserve until the completion of their course. The only stipulation is that the men "soldier" during their thirty days of training, observe the rules of the camp, perform their duties as do men of the regular army and earnestly seek to get all of the benefits accruing from the four weeks period of outdoor life.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Beard of Edge were here today. Mr. Beard left on the noon train for a business trip to Mart.

Pie Counters Are To Be Cleared Of Democrats

(Special to the Bryan Eagle)
Philadelphia, June 9.—The Harding administration, and the leaders of Congress, have decided upon a definite policy relating to the distribution of Federal patronage. That policy is based upon the general principle that federal offices belong to the party in power, not to individuals. Therefore, it has been decided that the tenure of Democratic occupants of Federal offices shall be limited to eight years, that period during which the Democratic party was in power. Announcement of this policy was made last night, by Senator Penrose, chairman of the finance committee of the senate.

Senator Penrose explained that under the new policy, officials who were appointed late in the Wilson administration to offices, which previously had been filled by Democrats, are likely to have their successors appointed in a short time. Under the new plan, no consideration will be given the fact that various officials were appointed to particular office, during the years of Democratic control. The plan contemplates the appointment of Republicans to all offices, which were filled by Democrats for eight years.

"The plan," said the senator, "should clarify the atmosphere surrounding Federal appointments." Unquestionably the plan will ease the minds of hundreds of office seekers, who anxiously have been awaiting some information of the administration's policy in respect to offices held by Democrats, particularly those incumbents who were appointed and confirmed in the closing months of the Wilson administration.

The senator added that under the new patronage plan, the fact that an official such as a district attorney, was confirmed late in the Wilson administration, will not operate to continue in office, if his post was filled by a Democrat during the entire period of the Wilson administration. "I am now having a record made of the Republican officials, who were dismissed from office, upon the advent of the Wilson administration," said the senator.

LAW HENDERSON HAD CHARGE OF PROGRAM BRYAN ROTARY CLUB

Law Henderson had charge of the program for Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon Wednesday at the St. Andrew's Parish house. Law is sometimes late getting there but he always does the thing right after he arrives, and the program was unusually good. Dr. Bizzell was called upon for his impression of Rotary, and he responded with a tribute to the harmonizing effect of a Rotary Club in the cities he had visited, and how it had cemented friendships, healed misunderstandings, and made the other fellows viewpoint more real.

Rev. H. M. Timmons of Navasota, president of the Chamber of Commerce there, and Dr. Emory talked to the club, about their need for a Rotary Club in their city. Law Henderson called Navasota the "suburbs" of Bryan, and after things had quieted down, the program was resumed. The President appointed a membership committee as follows: J. Webb Howell, M. E. Wallace, and John M. Lawrence. The following members attended the luncheon: T. K. Lawrence, G. Sam Parker, R. W. Howell, M. E. Wallace, D. Ernest Moore, Tyler Haswell, Oak McKenzie, Law Henderson, D. L. Wilson, Dr. W. B. Bizzell, D. X. Bible, J. C. Nagle, Wilson Bradley, M. L. Lawrence and the guests were Dr. Emory and Rev. Timmons, of Navasota, Texas.

A TAYLOR BOY HAS GEESE FOR PLAYMATES

(By Associated Press)
Taylor, Tex., June 9.—The unusual attachment of two geese for a ten-months old boy was discovered in Taylor by Major J. A. Brackenridge, who served in the 144th Infantry, 36th Division. The youngster is Clayton Lattimore, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Lattimore and grand-nephew of Judge C. S. Lattimore, associate judge of the court of criminal appeals at Austin. The geese—a goose and a gander—are the property of Miss Ella Miller, who lives one block from the Lattimore home. The geese have virtually adopted the boy and stay with him during his daily play hours. They attempt to feed him delicacies of their own liking—insects, roots, grass and other geese edibles—bringing them to him and dropping them in his lap or in front of him. Although the geese will allow none to come near them while feeding, they feed contently from Clayton's hand.

Every morning the geese appear at the Lattimore home and start squawking and hissing, stopping only when the boy appears. They follow him diligently during his stay outdoors, protecting him from all harm and making vain attempts to show their fondness for him. The geese had never seen the youngster or been at the Lattimore home until they followed Major Brackenridge and Clayton home one day. The major tried to drive them back and they attacked him, hissing and biting at him. He took Clayton in his arms and the geese renewed the attack more forcefully. The old goose tried to protect the boy, spreading her wings over him and making a great fuss. From that day Major Brackenridge watched with interest the attachment of the geese for the boy. Mrs. C. E. Miller, whose husband, Colonel Miller commanded the 144th Infantry in France, corroborated the major's statements. The Millers live across the street from the Lattimores.

Cleburne Keith of Kurten was here today on business.

ONE KILLED, TWO INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK

National Commander of American Legion, F. W. Galbraith Killed When the Auto in Which He Was Riding Dropped Over a Twenty Foot Embankment—Two Others Injured.

(By Associated Press)
Indianapolis, June 9.—F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the American Legion was instantly killed and two other men seriously injured when their automobile went over a twenty foot embankment here this morning.

The three men were returning to the city from the Country Club in the car of Henry J. Ryan, of Indianapolis, national director of Legion's Americanism commission. Ryan and Milton J. Foreman, of Chicago, who also were in the car, were injured. The car failed to make a slight turn in the road and ran over the curbing across sidewalk and turned over several times landing at the foot of the twenty foot embankment. All three men were thrown clear of the car as they went down but Mr. Galbraith suffered a fractured skull and died enroute to a hospital. The coroner who investigated the accident said the wrecked machine showed broken connection in steering wheel. Galbraith was about fifty years old and was elected national commander of the American Legion in September, 1920.

No Movie Censorship Legislation Is Passed

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, June 9.—Not a single "movie" censorship act has been passed by thirteen middle-western states, it is shown in a poll just completed, in spite of all the agitation for the passage of such measures on the part of civic legislative bodies. A welter of such legislation has been proposed. Some has merely been introduced. Some has passed one house. Some has even gotten a favorable hearing in the committee room of one house after having successfully run the gauntlet of opposition in the other. But always something has intervened to prevent its enactment into a law.

A typical case is that of Missouri. A bill to create a board of censorship of three members, one a woman, at a salary of $3,000 yearly each, was passed, after a stormy debate, by the lower house at the last legislative session. For some reason or other the bill was late in leaving the house. The senate committee took its full ten days, as entitled by law, in deliberating upon it. The result was that despite the strenuous efforts of its friends to get the bill on the calendar, it died in the committee room. This bill provided for a fee of $2 to be levied on the film manufacturer for each 1,200 feet of film censored. Had it passed, the normal circulation of films in Missouri would have been cut down by approximately 20 per cent, its sponsors say.

Indiana, Minnesota and North Dakota all considered bills for creating censorship boards at their last legislative session, and the senate in the case on both Indiana and Minnesota killed bills the house had passed.

In South Dakota, perhaps, the bitterest fight of all occurred. A bill providing for the creation of a commission consisting of three members passed in the house. When it reached the senate an amendment was tacked on making it compulsory that all films and all advertising matter be submitted to at least two members of the commission, whose decision in all cases would be absolute and final. In this amendment the house refused to concur, on the ground that existence of a board so empowered would take away from the people the right of referendum. The senate refused to retract its amendment, with the result that the bill passed into limbo.

In Oklahoma no attempt was made to create a board of censorship; but a bill prohibiting the "exploitation of immoral and outlaw reputations" on the screen attained a majority in the senate during the last session. It failed in the house. There is in this state however, an "informal" committee composed of ministers, club women and civic workers which is usually consulted before a film is exhibited bearing with any weight on religious, racial or criminal issues.

Similar to the Oklahoma measure was that in Wisconsin which aimed to give control of film exhibitions as coming definitely within the scope of the general act covering the dissemination of obscene, immoral or licentious pictures. Another bill however, introduced at the same session, attempted to establish the regulation censorship board, through a part of the function of the state industrial commission. The first bill passed the senate, but due to the pressure of other legislation has not come up on the house calendar.

A variant in such bills was that proposed in Nebraska creating a board of three members "not more than two of the same sex," with salaries of $2400 annually, and providing drastic penalties for exhibition of films not presented to this board for inspection. The board was to be a part of the department of public welfare.

Somewhat similar was the proposal made in the Michigan assembly in the bill providing that censorial powers be vested in the state board of administration or such other agency as it may designate (the board however to reserve the right to act as court of appeal).

The bill now before the Illinois house would create a state board of five, not more than three of whom were members of the same political party, to be appointed by the governor, for four-year terms. This bill would exempt from the supervision of the board such pictures as were sponsored by religious, fraternal or educational institutions. It would attempt to weed out all films of a "sacreligious, vulgar, indecent, obscene, immoral, unpatriotic or of such character that their exhibition would tend to corrupt morals or incite to crime." Another bill before the Illinois assembly would compel the registration of all films with the state department of registration and education.

Kansas furnishes an old phenomenon in movie legislation. There is an old law in Kansas, dating back to 1863, which forbids the Kansas to engage in other than "necessary" work on Sundays. Now, although the state supreme court has ruled that movies come within the provisions of this law, in certain communities no jury can be obtained to convict violators of this statute. Thus it is that Leavenworth and Atchison and certain other communities have movies week round while most of the smaller communities do not. The very unusual defense of Sunday productions was made by one exhibitor who asserted that since prohibition of his Sunday business would so seriously cut into his revenue as to throw him into bankruptcy, Sunday exhibitions were "necessary."

Details about her death could not be learned. Mrs. Crawford has visited often in Oshkosh and is well known to Mr. Bryan and will be remembered by many acquaintances as a very lovely and charming woman, who regretted to learn of her death.

W. E. DOYLE CARRIES BRAZOS COUNTY FOR STATE SENATOR

Mayor W. E. Doyle, of Teague, Freestone county, an ex-confederate soldier in the special senatorial election swept the 12th district Saturday and was elected to succeed Senator Harp by a large majority. Mayor Doyle carried every county in the district, Brazos, Robinson, Freestone and Limestone. Incomplete returns in Brazos county give, W. E. Doyle, of Freestone county, 501; W. W. Bennett, of Limestone county, 41; W. P. Alexander, of Limestone county 29. The vote was very light and County Clerk McSwain states this afternoon that several boxes have not reported. Senator Doyle will attend the special session of the Texas Legislature which will be called by Gov. Neff about July 11.

GOV. NEFF MAY GO ON STUMP BEFORE LEGISLATURE MEETS

(Special to the Eagle)

Austin, Texas, June 6.—Unless a month's time brings unexpected changes, the political stage in Texas will be set for one of the warmest special sessions of the state legislature, both from the standpoint of weather and oratory, that has been held in years when July 11 inaugurates the first called session of the 37th state assembly.

The date is now but a month distant, and current gossip says Governor Pat M. Neff has not changed his mind with regard to the time of recalling solons to Austin. He has as yet, however, issued no formal call.

Barring emergencies of a very grave nature which might arise in Texas within the next year and a half the predictions seems correct that this, the first called session of the present legislature, will be the only called session in the history of the 37th which has already gone down in political history as one of the most conservative bodies ever assembled in Texas.

There should be one qualification, however, to the statement that "the stage is set." Governor Neff, it has been rumored since the close of the regular session will make a series of speeches throughout the state in support of the legislative program which he is soon to offer, verified this rumor again last week when he told a prominent visitor that between now and July 11 he expected to crowd in an itinerary which would inform even the forks of the creek what he thought was imperative for this state.

Still After Pryor.

In several ways Governor Neff has been an executive of surprises since his inauguration last January, and there are few who think his present tour of state prison farms is solely for the purpose of personal inspection. Nor are there many who will refuse to believe that his present break with W. G. Pryor, state prison commissioner, whom the governor is attempting to oust has as yet seen the full burst of executive fireworks.

Weight of gossip at Austin, much of it collected from visiting legislators who have come to Austin on business since the close of the regular session, anticipates the coming session about as follows:

Governor Neff's consolidation and economy program: Slight chance of any swing from the obstinacy of the regular session to agree with him except possibly consolidation of the department of markets and warehouse with the agricultural department, which failed by but one vote in the senate after it had passed the house last March.

Johnson quo warranto law, centralizing authority in the governor to take summary action against negligent peace officers: Little likelihood of passing unless radically amended.

Working out of a good roads program to match anticipated federal appropriations: Action to result due largely to what measure is passed by the national congress.

Will Repeal Truck Tax Bill.

Practically repeal of the truck tax bill.

Suspended sentence law: Some chance for amendments strengthening the present measure against alleged impositions to which it has been exercised but little opportunity whatever of an absolute repeal.

Passage of laws to be recommended by bankers strengthening Texas banking and insurance statutes.

Tax raising legislation: Undoubted

Mayor Doyle Was Elected State Senator

Groesbeck, Texas, June 6.—From reports received in Groesbeck Mayor W. E. Doyle of Teague, former Confederate soldier has been elected state senator from the Twelfth District, composed of Freestone, Limestone, Robertson and Brazos counties. He will succeed De Leon Harp, resigned. His opponents were W. P. Alexander, former representative from Limestone county, and W. W. Bennett, formerly of Groesbeck, but now teaching in the Bryan public schools.

With two small boxes out the vote in Brazos county stood Doyle, 489; Bennett, 40; Alexander, 28. Doyle carried Freestone county by a big majority and has a majority over both his opponents in Limestone county, having swept the voting boxes of Groesbeck, Mexia, Thornton and Kosse. Robertson county vote was small but it went overwhelmingly for Doyle. No election was held at Hearse.

SOUR STOMACH INDIGESTION

Theford's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficiency of Theford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver."

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Theford's.

FARM BUREAU ACTIVE IN BRAZOS COUNTY

The Brazos County farmers who have cotton to sell have a movement on foot to co-operate and sell their cotton in large quantities. In this way they attract the attention of the large cotton firms of Dallas, Houston, and Waco. This results in keen competition on both price and grades. In their sale of May 26, they made about five dollars per bale on about three hundred bales by selling this way. This proves that the pooling method is a much more economical means of marketing cotton than the old way of selling a few bales at a time. The short staple and low grade cotton was sold in a separate pool and brought 25 points less than the good cotton.

Mr. Sam Cavitt, president of the Brazos County Farm Bureau, has been very active in getting the farmers together on this proposition. Jes M. Cook is selling the cotton. He states that he has received valuable services through the Extension Service and Bureau of Markets men at College Station and in Houston and Dallas. Mr. Cook is in Corsicana this week. He is to make a sale for the farmers of Navarro County about Wednesday, June 8. The farmers of Brazos County are to make their next sale on Wednesday, June 15.

MONEY SAVED IS ALWAYS MONEY MADE

(Extension Service Farm News)

Answered call from farmer to investigate disease among his cattle. Found that seven calves had died writes C. L. Beason, County Agent in Brazos County, in his report to the Extension Service, A. & M. College of Texas. I took sick calf to College for diagnosis and treatment. This service to this one farmer represented a saving to him of at least ten dollars; furthermore, the diagnosis may furnish information worth hundreds of dollars to him and his neighbors. It has also been said that farmer will not stick together in organization work, but another paragraph from this same report seems to refute this accusation, which reads as follows: "Took F. W. Kazmeier an Miss Mame Hazel, Poultry Specialists, to lecture to one of the club. Out of an enrollment of forty-five there were forty-three present, an keen interest was manifested in the information given by the specialists."

How many city organizations of any character can boast of such large percentage of membership attending any meeting and manifesting interest in lectures on subjects pertaining to the interests they represent.

CASES DISPOSED OF IN DISTRICT COURT

(W. C. Davis, Judge Presiding)
Only civil cases have been on call in District Court this week, and the following cases were disposed of:

R. Q. Astin vs. I. & G. N. Railway Co., verdict for plaintiff.

Jno Dupema vs. H. & T. C. Railway Co., judgment for plaintiff by agreement of parties.

Allen Smith vs. H. & T. C. Railway Co., continued on application of defendant.

C. H. Garrett vs. American Express Co., judgment for plaintiff by agreement of parties.

The cases of Lawrence Grocery Co. vs. Republic Insurance Co. and Superior Fire Insurance Co., were reset for June 6, 1921.

The jury for the week was finally excused today. The policy of Judge Davis in insisting that, when cases are set down for trial and jury ordered, they be tried, settled or dismissed, is proving very effective, and the docket, both civil and criminal, is being rapidly disposed of. By adhering to this policy Judge Davis is rendering a distinct service to the jurors of the country in that they are required to be in attendance only when actually necessary, and too, is conserving the jury fund of the county.

DR. W. B. BIZZELL AND SENATOR LEWIS MAKE NOTABLE ADDRESSES

(Special to the Eagle)
Stephenville, Tex., June 2.—Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of the A. & M. College of Texas, delivered his annual address and presented the diplomas to the graduating class of John Tarleton Agricultural College here last night immediately following an address by State Senator H. L. Lewis of Navasota. At the conclusion of the exercises Dean J. Thomas Davis pronounced the close of the school year.

President Bizzell spoke on "The Service Aim of Education." He said the serious problems of today brought about by the ills of our basic industry, agriculture, the necessity of safeguarding against future wars, the enormous increase in wealth, knowledge and power, the complexity of social organization and the establishment of co-operation on a scale never known before required intelligent leadership in service and that the future welfare of mankind seems to depend upon the intelligent direction of educational effort.

Senator Lewis, in his address, pictured the world as one great conflict with the soul both as the arena and as the prize of the conflict. "The world stands like a phalanx of difficulties in the way of the discouraged, the irresolute and halting, but it steps aside for those who with dauntless courage and dogged determination press forward."

The speech of Dr. Bizzell and Senator Lewis were notable for their power and information. Dr. Bizzell is one of the leading educators in the United States and Senator Lewis ranks high as a lawmaker and their speeches were events long to be remembered here.

O. Allen, J. D. Martin, F. L. Henderson, Jno. A. Moore, D. L. Wilson, Oak McKenzie, T. K. Lawrence, E. E. McAdams, city manager; D. D. White; Mr. Bowman, Mr. Jarrell and Mr. Willard of the Auto Club of Texas.

Chairman McKenzie of the Entertainment Committee, reported that he would call a meeting of his committee in a few days and would then arrange plans and entertainment for the Hood's Brigade which will meet in annual reunion on June 28 and 29, and called on all correspondents to give same wide publicity, so that the members who might not be at home and had to be reached by letter, would learn of same.

President Haswell called on Secretary S. W. Adams and President H. M. Timmons, of the Navasota Chamber of Commerce. Both of these gentlemen stated that they were present this morning to return the visit of President Tyler Haswell, Secretary S. E. Eberstadt, Hon. Lee J. Rountree and D. D. White last Friday night to their get-together meeting, and both gentlemen expressed great satisfaction over the spirit of cooperation and good fellowship which these visitors had brought about.

The detour road question in the Navasota bottom was gone into, and after being thoroughly discussed by Navasota parties and different directors, Judge Ferguson speaking for Brazos county, it was agreed that by all means both Navasota and Bryan must do everything possible to keep these detours open, more especially the short detour, and ask the tourists and general public to lend their cooperation by not traveling the short detour in rainy weather, as much complaint has been made that tourists had cut fences, run out of road on crops, etc., and every effort will be made not to cause any damage to the bottom planters that have so kindly opened their farms for these detours.

Mr. Willard of the Auto Club of Texas with headquarters at Dallas, addressed the meeting on the importance of this organization for tourists and auto owners, and asked the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce. Motion carried that this be referred to the Highway Committee.

A BIG DAY REPORTED ON THE ALLEN FARM

County Agent C. L. Beason and Secretary S. E. Eberstadt, of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce, report a most pleasant day spent on the Rogers farm Thursday. On their way out they stopped at College and picked up Mr. S. H. Evans, specialist in Animal Husbandry with the Extension Service, and they were met at the farm by District Agent A. W. Buchanan, County Agent C. Hohn, Assistant County Agent Stool, Grimes county; Rev. H. M. Timmons, pastor First Methodist church, Navasota; S. W. Adams, secretary Chamber of Commerce, Navasota, and Mr. John D. Rogers who lives in Navasota. The day was spent driving over the farm looking at the crops and admiring the excellent state of cultivation they are in, studying the methods employed by Mr. Rogers, and learning something of his plans for the future.

A trip through the old prison house recalled the fact to most of the visitors that this farm was formerly operated by convict labor, but Mr. Rogers stated that the convict labor became more and more unsatisfactory till he had to abandon it and go back to the "trustly old negro." upon being asked what sort of diversification paid him best, Mr. Rogers frankly admitted that the "nigger" and forty cent cotton was hard to beat.

The visitors enjoyed looking at the feed lots, barns, implement sheds, artesian wells as fine as can be had, the negroes catching their teams to go to work, etc. "How is your crop, Uncle," asked one of the visitors of an old "darkey," Lit Porter, as he came out with his team. "Best on the farm, Boss, and my mules am de fattest."

Mr. Rogers is not a book farmer, but he does believe in system, as any one can readily see by being on the farm just a short while. The entire tract of more than four thousand acres is platted, blue prints showing every drain, turn row, tenant houses, pasture, number of acres in each cut, etc. Mr. Rogers showed himself a most excellent host, taking special pains to see that the visitors were neglected in no small matter.

Mrs. Taylor, the wife of the manager of the Rogers farm, served a sumptuous dinner to the delight of all the visitors. When some one suggested to Mr. Rogers that either he or his manager deserved much credit for the fine conditions the crops were in, Mr. Rogers very generously remarked that the credit was due Mr. Taylor, the manager.

EVERYBODY SEES A CHANGE IN FATHER

GRATEFUL SON SAYS HIS FATHER LOOKS LIKE DIFFERENT MAN SINCE TAKING TANLAC

"My father has suffered from chronic stomach troubles for over twenty years and has paid out thousands of dollars for medicines and doctors," said G. W. Slayton, a well-known Cobb county farmer, living a short distance out of Atlanta, Ga.

"We tried nearly everything to cure him and he went off to the Springs, thinking maybe the water might help him but it just looked like nothing would reach his trouble. Then he tried dieting and lived on liquid food until he almost starved, but even that failed to do him any good and he just kept going from bad to worse."

"I don't guess there ever was a case as stubborn as his and if there ever was a confirmed dyspeptic, he was one of them and I guess he would have been one yet if it hadn't been for this Tanlac."

"The first we heard of this medicine was when my father saw an advertisement in the papers from parties he knew in Tennessee, who were friends of his and he knew what they said about it was the truth so he got it right away and began taking it. Well, sir, it acted just like magic—everybody notices the change in father. Why, he is just like a different man and sits down to the table and eats like a farm-hand. Only yesterday he ate pork and turnips for his dinner and ate so much we were actually afraid he was going to overdo the thing but he laughed and said nothing hurt him now and that he was hungry and expected to eat and make up for lost time."

"Now, when a medicine will do things like that I think people ought to know about it and I want to say right now that I would not give one bottle of Tanlac for all the other medicines and health resorts in the country put together."

Tanlac is sold in Bryan by N. A. Stewart, druggist, and all leading druggists.—Advertisement.
